WEARING MAYOR'S CROWN NO PLEASANT TASK

Demand For Return of Illegally Paid Fine Made on Council While Mayor and Bondsmen Are Threatened With Suit—Other Matters Before Council.

It's an overflowing treasury the village has at present, think of it, more than $9000 on hand all at one time, more than twice the usual amount at any time in the year. The excess amount is due largely to the fact that $2415 of the Harper inheritance tax has been paid with more to follow. Again, Council Auditor Paulner has made his February settlement and distributed the December taxes, the village getting its share.

The reports of the various committees were approved by the council, receipts being $10. Mr. J. C. Barber, village treasurer wanted information as to which fund the Harper inheritance tax should be paid. He stated that he would hold up vouchers issued on this until he was informed legally. Council having no solicitor found it would be necessary to employ one.

Propositions were read from Frank H. Dean and Harry D. Smith but a committee composed of J. E. Mitchell and F. G. Lowry was appointed to get terms from other attorneys and report.

A communication from F. L. Johnson, as attorney for John Jones, was read in which a demand was made for the return of payment of a fine which Jones had paid amounting to $72. The mayor had sent Jones to the works for not making final payment and Jones was released on the ground that he had been fined under the Rose county local law which had been repealed by the Home Rule amendment.

Mayor McLean stated that he had taken up the matter with Supt. White of the Anti-Saloon League who held that no fine could be levied under a plea of guilty. The mayor met with Council Saturday night for a conference on the matter but nothing was reached other than White would confer with Johnson and report later. Council refused to take any action at this time until legally advised. The fact that Jones could not be held in the workhouse would indicate that the village will be in for refunding the money. If it is not refunded on demand it is certain that the mayor and bondsmen as well as the village must stand a suit, the cost of which will fall on the village and would probably amount to several times the amount of fine.

Mayor McLean reported another liquor case that was giving some concern. It was a case brought by the State Liquor License Commission Inspectors against Jennie Jackson, a woman put up $300 in Mayor McLean's hands as surety following her arrest. She was found guilty at trial and the fine was taken from the surety money. Sully James, colored, of Springfield, represented defendant in trial.

Demand was made of the Mayor for the money by James and he was given the difference, about $170. In a few days Johnson and Armstrong, representing the Jackson woman, demanded of the mayor the full $300 on ground that he had no legal right to take the fine from surety money. The demand was accompanied by a threatened suit against the official and his bondsmen.

Mayor McLean conferred with James who had the money but refused to turn it over to the Jackson woman until she agreed to the payment of his attorney fee out of same. We since learned that this matter has been adjusted and that Mayor McLean and his bondsmen will be held for the difference.

While the situation is an embarrassing one for the mayor who does not want his bondsmen drawn into an expensive lawsuit, yet much of this trouble comes from the local officials taking outside liquor cases that other courts would not recognize. So far as local cases were concerned the officials were properly justified in taking action. Had there been convictions in the outside cases the village could get no part of the fine and the officers only their costs, while the liquor license commission inspectors holding political jobs only wanted a conviction regardless of the fine or what became of the case afterwards. If the press dispatches are correct, most of the inspectors connected with the local cases have been fired. The commission was about as lame on legal talent as it was on evidence.

The experience the officials and village has gained in these cases should be a guide for the future, let other towns handle their liquor cases and the village its own. The taxpayers of the village are the ones that foot damage suit bills as the costs are assessed that way regardless of the decision of the suit.

KILLED CHICKENS FIRST.

The local blood hounds did good work Thursday when a trail was followed from Mr. T. C. Welford's on the A. C. Anderson farm to a house here in town. Fifteen choice hens were taken and the necks wrung on the spot. A pair of bloody gloves were also found. Blood notes on the pile could be traced along to Cedarville. The dogs held the trail without leaving it at anytime. No search warrant was secured for continuing the investigation. The thieves had a good long walk carrying the fifteen hens in a sack.

WILL CHANGE NAME.

John Bryan of Riverside farm has purchased the farm at New Park at Yellow Springs which almost touches the picturesque 500 acre farm that was once a part of the Neff grounds. Only a narrow strip of land separates the two pieces. The park for more than a year has belonged to T. C. Carlisle, and comprises 108 acres. The new owner will change the name of the park and employ a manager to operate it.

CHANGED HIS PLEA.

Frank Curl, colored youth of Xenia who shot Earl McDufford and was held for first degree murder with three other companions, has changed his plea to guilty of homicide. Luther Curl was allowed to plead guilty of second degree murder and was sentenced to the penitentiary by Judge Kyle. Walter Stoffer and Samuel Johnson are still in jail. Luther Curl in his statement to the court blamed "boots" for all his trouble.

Prosecutor Harry D. Smith is to be commended for his interest in the cases that promised to cost the county about $8000. As it is the men will be given prison sentences and will remain as long in the pen as would their if found guilty after having stood trial, judging from the manner in which the pardon board has liberated prisoners the past few years. The prosecutor has rendered efficient service in behalf of the taxpayers, who have been called upon in former years to pay some heavy bills that cannot be escaped under the present laws governing murder cases.

SMALL FIRE MONDAY.

The fire department was called out Monday due to a small fire at the rear of the Ridgway drugstore where frozen water pipes were being thawed out. The damage was not great and the department drew but little water, a garden hose being used when the fire was first discovered.

PENNSY TOWER BURNS.

The telegraph tower east of town burned Saturday morning about half past three, supposedly from an overheated stove in the basement where a quantity of oil was stored. The fire was no sooner discovered by George Reed, section foreman, who had been up all night keeping the switches clear of snow, than the entire structure was like a furnace.

Hugh Grindle, who was on duty, upon call went to the basement with a fire extinguisher which refused to work. He returned upstairs to discover Frank Shrodes, who was asleep at the time. The fire was just reaching the upper floor through opening for the switch levers. It was impossible to save train room or the boys' wearing apparel such as coats, hats and shoes.

The company has moved the operators to the station and the present. It is said the company cannot get material for the tower for some time which will keep the operators at the depot until a new tower can be erected.

DRYS HOLD MEETING.

S. A. Prebst, of the Cincinnati district of the Anti-Saloon League, stated Saturday at meeting of the county organization in Xenia that "America is going dry and it's going dry very soon." A luncheon was held at the First Reformed church in connection with the meeting. The names of five persons, Mrs. Mary Collins, Rev. Huber Ferguson, Frank McCurran, F. C. Hubbell and R. R. Holmes were added to the executive committee. A winner for campaign purposes will be employed and the townships organized.

WHEREABOUTS OF YOUNG BUSINESS MAN A MYSTERY

The mysterious disappearance of one of our young business men has caused no little amount of speculation and comment. At his place of business the only information given upon inquiry is that the "boss" is out of town, whereabouts unknown.

Some say that probably our young friend has gone on a trip to Detroit where he might discuss business and learn from Mr. Ford personally just why he cannot get all the cars he can sell.

Others have it that probably this young scion is at some distant city attending some automobile show, keeping in touch with all the new things that go onto the market. But there are no auto shows at this date. The only other big event that would attract a man away from his business would be President Wilson's inaugural down in Washington.

Our young friend has never played in the field of politics and politicians constitute the great majority of the inaugural crowds, we could see no possible reason for the Wilson show proving an attraction.

PARENT TEACHERS MEETING.

The Parent Teachers Association held an open meeting and entertainment in the school auditorium Tuesday evening, the room being well filled with parents and pupils.

Mrs. J. H. Fortney presided and in a very concise way pointed out the object of the organization and the work to be accomplished. The duties of the parents and the relationship of teachers, pupils and parents.

Dr. J. L. Chesnut spoke of the school ground recreations and urged more attention to this part of child life. Play is just as important as education for it means the physical development of the child. The board was urged to provide suitable amusements for the pupils and that the play grounds be made to excel any other in the county. Mention also made of the necessity of a physical director.

Rev. J. S. E. McMichael spoke of the co-operation of the home and school. Three institutions are necessary to the proper development of the pupil, the home, the school and the church. A better understanding of the nature of each pupil will often bring a closer relationship between parent and teacher. Differences over school management or between teachers and parents should never be mentioned in the presence of the latter.

A special program of music and readings had been prepared by members of the school. The program was set by the high school; a duet by Misses Lucile Johnson and Dorothy Oglesbee; reading by Miss Elsie Shrodes; concert solo by Miss Marsh; comic dialogue between Edwin Bradford and Wilbur Conley as the black face artists proved very entertaining; a solo by Prof. Siegler.

The teachers of the school under the direction of Miss Alberta Creswell staged a very clever three act comedy that was interesting throughout. This was the first open meeting of the Parent Teachers Association and those who attended were well repaid. Such gatherings will result in a closer relationship of parents and the schools.

SIGNS OF SPRING.

It is not necessary to follow the whereabouts of the Ground Hog to tell just the arrival of spring. Dr. Lee Anderson has paved the way for the arrival of spring. A general housecleaning campaign is being waged about the Dr.'s place of business and a liberal coat of white paint is being applied.

GOING UP IN PRICE.

The Xenia Gazette has announced a fifty per cent increase in the price of the paper to those who pay carriage. There is an increase from 10 to 15 cents a week while R. F. D. subscribers are boosted to $3.50 a year. High cost of paper is given as the reason. Reports have been current in the county seat the past week that certain prominent citizens here been considering a plan for the establishment of a new daily in that city.

DEATH OF MRS. ERVIN.

Word was received here Tuesday of the death of Mrs. Martha Ervin, widow of the late Madden Ervin, who died in 1892. The deceased had been spending the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Oscar Haleson at Marion, O., death taking place Monday evening. Death was due to pneumonia.

Mrs. Ervin was born and reared in this vicinity her maiden name being Hemphill. With the exception of a residence of 14 years in Bloomington, Ind., she had lived here all her life. Two sons, Charles of Xenia and John H. of Jamestown, survive with the daughter, Mrs. Ralston. A stepson, James N. Ervin died several years ago. The funeral was held Thursday from the R. P. church, (O. S.) Thursday where she had been a life long member. Burial took place at Mass-les Creek cemetery.

Robin Redbreast, welcome fellow, is back from the Southland. Mother Earth wakes from her winter's nap. The poets are tuning up.

And Milady is saying something like this: "Really, it's high time we are seeing and choosing what we're going to wear this spring."

So Spring Opening Week in Dayton is timely—from March 13 to 17 inclusive. The stores will vie with each other in attractive displays of fashions—new styles for the home as well as for wear.

We feel sure you'll enjoy this big event and want you to come. Come any day, preferably Wednesday.

That a little group of men of fanatical ideas could defeat the will of the majority, also the demands of the great majority of our citizens, over supporting the president at this hour, seems that those guilty of such could be charged with treason.

The fault of course lies in the rules of the senate where unlimited debate might defeat a measure. That such rules will be changed before another session is almost certain.

One is not necessarily favoring immediate war by condemning the action of the dozen senators that refused to permit the arming of merchant vessels. One has to question the sincerity of such men as Bryan, LaFollette and others who oppose this movement.

In fact Bryan's measure has been taken on more than one occasion. The first was leaving the cabinet because $12,000 was not sufficient salary, his leaving being at a time when grave differences had been created by his own handling of foreign affairs. One year Bryan has toured this state advocating statewide prohibition and the following year advocates the election of a wet candidate for state office.

Bryan's position at the present time is anything but patriotic and judging from past performances must be for selfish reasons only. Bryan and his associates had the right solution in judging the public mind as to people liking to be humbugged but the surprising thing in this day and age of enlightenment is that the public will continue to be duped by our latest Benedict Arnold, William Jennings Bryan.

BAND CONCERT.

At the Opera House on March 16 the Cedarville S. of V. Band will present its second annual concert.

Notwithstanding the fact that the public has not heard the band since last fall, which marked the end of a very prosperous and flattering season for the boys. They have kept at diligent practice throughout the winter. The concert promises to far exceed the one of last year and afford the home people a chance to hear some good music and show their loyalty to our band, which endeavors to be self-sustaining and entertaining.

The program is an elaborate one and the musical selections will be interspersed by good readings, vocal solos and vaudeville sketches by local talent. Reserved seats will be 25c all over the house. Watch for plat opening date.

LESSON FOR MARCH 11

JESUS THE BREAD OF LIFE.

LESSON TEXT—John 6:24-37. GOLDEN TEXT—Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life.—John 6:35.

Following the feeding of the five thousand, Jesus saw the design of the multitude (v. 15), and separated himself unto prayer. Following that common, the disciples went over the sea toward the City of Capernaum (v. 17), but in his supernatural power he followed them, walking upon the water (v. 19). Midway he entered their ship, and immediately they reached the land toward which they had been traveling (v. 21). Jesus said unto them, "Follow me, and I will give you the bread of life." (v. 26). The next day (John 6:22) the people who at this period were following him in such great multitudes, took steps to reach him. Finding that he was not at their side of the lake, they took boats and came to Capernaum, "seeking for Jesus" (v. 24). We read that the common people heard him gladly. These people wanted the companionship of Jesus, and the longest bread line in the world today is that of hungry-hearted men. The question is, are we willing to give them the loaves of comfort?

1. Bread Which Perisheth (v. 23-25). "If you think you will always get the loaves and fishes simply, because you have followed the Lord, you have handed yourself a goldbrick." Dr. Griffin Bull. Most of us will go further for victuals than we will for a vision. When the people found Jesus (v. 25) they rather remonstrated him for leaving them, when the fact of the matter was that he was not beholden to them in any sense whatsoever. It looks very well for these people to be "seeking Jesus," but they were seeking the wrong thing (v. 26). It was not really Jesus they wanted, but the loaves and the fishes. It was not the "sign" as indicating his divine character that drew them, but simply the wonder as indicated by the fact that they expected a constant supply of bread, nor did they see in that bread the sign of his power. Salvation is the free gift of God apart from works. Nevertheless he commands the exercise of will. "This is the work of God that ye believe on him whom he hath sent" (v. 29). This is not inconsistent with I Cor. 12:3, I. C. "No man can say that Jesus is the Lord but by the Holy Ghost." Like the two blades of a pair of shears, the executive act of my will in believing on Jesus is met by the regenerating energy of God's spirit making me a son of his.

The Jews demanded a sign as a condition of believing on him, when he himself, was the greatest of all signs (v. 30). They sought to enforce their demands by reference to Moses and the manna, but Jesus showed them that the manna was a type of "the (true) bread of God." The characteristics of this bread are: (1) It comes down from heaven; (2) It gives life unto the world. Jesus' hearers did not understand what he meant, and exclaimed: "Evermore give us this bread." Jesus was trying to impress upon his hearers the same diligence in heavenly matters as in the pursuit of earthly meals.

11. The Everlasting Bread (v. 33-37). Misunderstanding his teaching (v. 34) Jesus said unto them plainly: "I am the bread of life," meaning that he is the true bread of God. He is not only the giver of the bread of life, but he himself, is the Bread of Life. As bread will satisfy the needs of the physical body, giving strength, vitality and energy, so he will supply the needs of the soul. He will satisfy the deep hunger and longing which is the evidence of need, and he will also satisfy the thirst which is the more intense desire—the spiritual craving of the soul. Jesus ministers to the never-failing strength of all who come to him, and who believe on him. Coming to him is seeking help and blessing from him. Believing on him is the absolute abandonment of self to him. This multitude had actually seen the living bread (v. 36), yet they believed not because they were so occupied with the material and unreal things of this world.

Today we find men so taken up with the material and unreal that they neither appreciate nor believe upon the true bread which has been sent down from God out of heaven. Not all will come to him (John 6:24), but anyone can agree that he belongs to the elect of God and the company of the Father by coming to Jesus (v. 37). If any man does come, he will be received. These words of Jesus are very positive, "I will in no wise cast him out." Jesus, the One who raises the dead, is therefore co-equal with God. Note the reminder of this chapter: "I will raise him up at the last day" (v. 40); "He that believeth on me hath everlasting life" (v. 47); "I am the bread of life" (v. 49); "Except ye eat the flesh of the Son of man, ye have no life in you" (v. 53); "Whoso eateth my flesh hath eternal life" (v. 54); "For my flesh is meat indeed" (v. 55); "He that eateth my flesh dwelleth in me and I in him" (v. 56); "He that eateth me, even he shall live by me" (v. 57). This is symbolical, it is true, but it is very real.
